

The SCOPE

THE SCOPE 1962-63

Pacific High School
Port Orford-Langlois

Dedication

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Adams came to Pacific High three years ago. Since that time they have worked unselfishly to try to "pound a little knowledge into our heads." Mr. Adams teaches American Problems to the seniors, hoping they will be prepared to meet the cruel world. He also teaches World Cultures to freshmen, thus giving them a start on their next three years in high school.

Mrs. Adams willingly and very capably directs the library. She also teaches the foreign language courses which are offered at Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams, only a few of the things which you have done for us have been enumerated above, but it is for those things and the many others that we, the students of Pacific High School, affectionately dedicate this, the 1962-63 SCOPE to you.

Capable Navigators

Now Hear This! Now Hear This!

Attention all Senior Passengers! You have now reached your Port of Debarkation. You will soon debark from our good ship "S. S. Pacific" for a venture to your various Ports of Call.

I wish to congratulate you upon your excellent citizenship and your wonderful cooperation and loyalty which have, in a large measure, made this trip so successful. You have all weathered this trip's big storm as though you were veteran seamen.

As your thoughts run back over this four year trip, do you find yourself wondering if this trip were really worthwhile? Whether your answer be yes or no, the accomplishments you have gained personally, either scholastically and/or those through your extracurricular activities, will be an asset to you in your future ventures. To each of you I wish to extend my most sincere wishes for success in the future. Bon Voyage!

Now to those underclassmen who will remain on the ship to complete their voyage, I extend my thanks to each of you for your cooperation in making this voyage so successful. Best of luck to you on the remainder of your voyage.

Sincerely,

Alfred G. Johnson

Chief Yeoman Helen Slocum

"Capt'n" John Wahl

It is the hope of the faculty and myself that the voyage of each Pacific Pirate will be a memorable one. On any extended cruise there are bound to be times when foul weather and sudden squalls occur. When this happens, the good crewman puts forth a little additional effort in order to keep the ship sailing smoothly. Continue this habit when your "Pirate Cruise" is completed and you will always make port safely.

Good luck to each of you.

Safe in Port After a Strenuous 4-Year Cruise

Bob Bartlett, Vice President; Russ Wright, President; Laurel Steddom, Secretary; Larry Bowman, Student Council Representative; Klaus Jensen, Treasurer.

Our journey is over. We have weathered the storms of four years on the good ship "Scope" of Pacific High and now, as we are preparing to land, it is our sincere wish that we have contributed something for the good of future passengers. We hope that they will profit from our mistakes and improve upon the good that we have done.

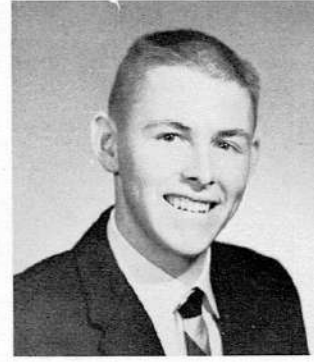

To the valiant captain and crew who have so painstakingly guided our craft throughout the trip we give a sincere "Thanks". They have helped us to chart our courses. They have been vigilant and alert, never failing to point out the dangerous reefs, the beauties of the trip, and they have drawn a picture of other journeys to come which has inspired us to continue with our education.

 - I, Russell Eugene Wright, will my front tooth to Gary Rogers.
- We, the Senior Class, will to the Junior Class our reputation for being a well-behaved class.

Class Prophecy

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is surprizing how much a community can change in only ten years. Upon returning home from Tibet, 2-CJ had changed beyond my wildest expectations--some for the better and others well.

RUSSELL WRIGHT and family have not entirely been innocent in the current population explosion of Port Orford. Our student body president, ROD DUNN, got his calling in local politics. Twice he has been elected County Commissioner on the slogan, "I'm the best man money can buy." I met DON ALLEN walking around dumbfounded, mouth open, eyes a buggin' out of his head muttering "Ak, Ak". From what I hear poor Don has been this way since he got his diploma--ten years ago. FRANK SMITH has been having trouble with the government. It seems they wouldn't let him put a Cherokee reservation for his kinfolk on Cape Blanco. When he got the word he couldn't do it, Frank gave them the old reply, "You and whose army is going to stop me?" PAT BARR has directed "The Taming of the Shrew" twenty-one times in ten years. She expects her next production to be her first success. CORKEY HURET really brought culture to the West Coast when he became a ballet dancer. Last year he went to Russia for an exchange program and never returned. Also along the culture channels, talented CURT HUBBARD has become a great artist. His fresh, life-like works can be found on most men's room walls in the area. ELAINE TAYLOR is now married to someone named Tucker. It seems she married the first guy that came along--whoever-in-the-heck he was. FRANKIE DAVID is in ill health. The recurring symptoms that she started with in high school are still with her and she is ill every Monday and Thursday, September through May 28. RANDY WALDIE is the only boy in our class that hasn't considered marriage--because he hasn't broken up with himself yet. RAY MANIKE followed his father's footsteps and became a sheepman. Also like his dear dad, he is raising more kids than sheep. KAROLE MILLER, LINDA TURNER, MARILYN SMITH, and CANDY BURT all agreed that the best things in life are in the Navy. Unfortunately, Karole was the only one who could pass the stiff physical and that broke up a great team. BOB BARTLETT took over the cafe and with a few changes he converted it to Bad Bob's Bar. This is a "refined" place with no-over-the-bar service to vagrants and no backdoor service to minors. "Let's revive the Edsel!" is the call of Ford Motors designer RICHARD THRONBERG.

SUSAN KIGHT still swears a family can live on $20 a month and two can live as cheaply as one. This is all basically true, of course, but her family of five were laid to rest last week in the 4 x 6 family plot after a long period of malnutrition and scurvy. Tragedy also struck in the JERRY SMITH home last week when the 4-H revoked his 27 year pin after his failure to attend the Annual Grange Potluck. GALE WEST finally got the little house with the rose garden and the patter of little feet. When I asked her if she still thought "Love was life" she turned white and said, "Ech!" BONNIE HODGE went back to the little shack on the ridge in the Ozarks and she just lies around and watches the moonshine. RON ROBERTS and ROD SABIN pooled their foldin' money and bought a spread. They are happy here away from it all--mainly those snide, sticky-fingered city slickers. GINGER COLSON has been getting rich from the endowments she gets from the Federal Government since she declared her husband a disaster area. JOHN CARPENTER has been called an astronaut by the locals because he has remained in high orbit since the graduation night party years ago. A milestone was set in male rights by RODNEY LESTER when he was elected Job's Daughter Queen. This was the result of attending 637 consecutive meetings with a certain underclassman girl. ROBERT REINKE went into show biz. He can be seen weekly as the before and after in the Polident commercial following "Life with Lassie."

JO WHITE is now a nationally famous nurse. She received this recognition several months ago when she successfully removed her own appendix on the Ed Sullivan Show in front of 80,000 viewers. LARRY BOWMAN proved that you don't get cancer from eating 55,000 tons of cranberries and he demands the Federal Government to make up for the great loss he took in '61. CHUCK HANSOHN converted Callison's to an undercover gambling casino. They play in the back room for huckleberry brush and cedar boughs. DENNIS JOHNSON is still determined to break the track record which his sister now holds. BILL BATES became a great mathematician. Last year he came up with Bates' Law of Relativity. Science commanded that Bates reveal it--at present they are demanding that Bates forget it. DANA BUSS made history according to the U. S. Border Patrol. She is the first person to swim from the United States into Mexico. WAYNE STREETS and CHRIS TOPE became explorers after graduation. They just never could accept the fact that the world is round. When last seen, they were trying to find the edge. CRAIG DEMING finally found a woman up at Agness. He still runs mail boats up there with his dad. LAUREL STEDDOM is now on the Langlois municipal pay roll. She has become the first motherly matron Langlois ever had. NANINE LIBBY went into the Congo with her brother. She has taught her cannibal "children" many things: forks on the left, spoons on the right. IRA CHASE finally found a cure for blushing when he sees girls; he uses heavy make-up. RICHARD MC GOWAN now owns his own laundry. Washing towels at Pacific High School became an obsession with him. JUDY LINDSAY is now publisher of "Hot Rod" magazine even though she still can't tell one car from another. JOHN POLER has been impounded for the tenth time for chasing Greyhound buses out of Port Orford. GARY PERKINS when asked his opinion of Miss America of 1973, replied, "What a fruit!"

Now I must return to Tibet because my health requires the high elevation with corresponding low temperatures.

Sincerely yours,

KLAUS JENSEN

Land Ho!! We're Almost There!

Jim Forty, Sgt.-at-Arms; Colleen Breedlove, Secretary; Susan Schwab, Treasurer; Bonnie Jensen, President; Cheryl Bowdish, Student Council Representative; Bob Sweet, Vice President.

As this school year draws to a close we, the junior class of the good ship "Scope" of Pacific High, realizing that our journey is rapidly drawing to a close, look back with a touch of nostalgia when we consider the part of the trip that has passed, and look forward with great anticipation to the coming year. All too soon we shall be embarking, ready to start a further journey on the Sea of Life, a journey which shall further prepare us to cope with whatever problems may come our way.

It is the sincere wish of the class that we have in some small way, contributed our share to the honors and traditions of the school.

Anchors Aweigh! Sophomores Embark on Troubled Sea

Christine Johnson, Treasurer; Ellen McWilliams, Secretary; Mike Lorentzen, President; Peter Brooks, Sergeant at Arms; David Hanson, Student Council Representative; Roly Olsen, Vice President.

Our journey is half over and we, the sophomores of Pacific High, having full confidence in the able members of the "crew" of teachers and administrators, hope that we will make a successful trip and land safely on shore. Thus we will have taken the first big trip on our journey through Life's stormy seas.

Frosh Leave Port for the High Seas

Walter Stauffer, President; Patty Kalina, Vice President; Linda Rhodes, Student Council Representative; Margo Samudio, Treasurer; Bette Beldon, Secretary; Ron Frost, Sgt. - at-Arms.

As we, the freshman class of Pacific High, reach the first port on our journey on the good ship "Scope", we are both thrilled with what we have discovered on our journey, and fearful of the dangers which lie ahead. However, the crew has proven so capable that we have the utmost confidence in its ability to guide us to our destination----that great day when we shall walk proudly down the gangplank and receive our diplomas from the captain.

Student Life

The student body is "actively" engaged in watching an assembly.

As the bell rings announcing the beginning of another class, students happily race down the halls, eager to begin another day. (??)

The following seniors have faithfully attended either Port Orford or Langlois and Pacific schools for the past twelve years: Richard McGowan, Richard Huret, Ginger Colson, Bob Bartlett, Karole Miller, Robert Reinke, Frank Smith, Laurel Steddom, Russell Wright, Pat Barr, Jerry Smith, Jo White, Don Allen, and Nanine Libby.

Mr. Davis plays a good game of ping pong until . . . Mr. Wahl discovers him.

Bonnie Hodge and Nanine Libby serve as clerks at the student store.

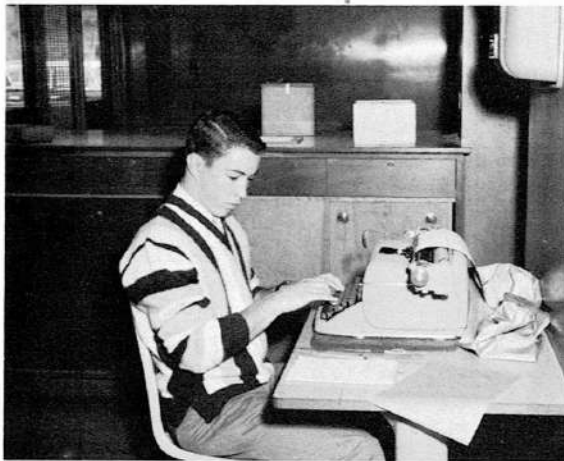

Students gather around the juke box and twist while others look on.
