EDITOR'S MESSAGE

It certainly took an awful lot of effort on behalf of the yearbook staff to produce Pacific's 2015-2016 annual. The days were riddled with immense moments of last-minute ad sale phone calls, empty article draft folders, unfinished spreads, and countless accounting trips to and from the front office. Fortunately, the remaining three staff members, with the help of an outside individual, managed to miraculously complete the annual. However, in all honesty, the year was not a complete wreck. For the most part, we possessed an extremely talented staff which flourished with creativity, integrity, and sometimes even a wee bit of punctuality. There were some close calls when it came to Bacon and yearbook production; but when there was a creation that was producible, it always received the community's praise. Here's to another tough yet memorable year.

THE PIRATE STAFF

WELCOME TO PACIFIC, HOME OF THE PIRATES!! I'M ALWAYS AMAZED AT THE efforts and achievements of the staff and students at Pacific. From having a state playoff boys basketball team to a state qualifying robotics team in the regional honor band and choir, those activities show that Pacific students embody the true meaning of well rounded students. Throughout the year where our students and staff many instances of greatness in the classroom and on the athletic fields, but there have been times where our students and staff show what it truly means to be a "Pirate" by lending a helping hand in our communities, just to name a few. I take pride when our students and staff get complimented on their exhibition of "Pirate Pride" because I know the time and effort every person puts into making sure that we are respectful and responsible citizens in our community, region, state, and world. I look forward to the years to come and hope that each person who walks through our hallways will truly understand our "Pirate Pride." GO PIRATES!!!

Our spirit runs deep and our blood runs purple. It is no wonder why so many of our fantastic sports teams went on to state championships.

The thanks is not only owed to our amazing student athletes. It can also be attributed to the masses of screaming and hollering sports fans.

A HECTIC HOMECOMING

So many avid and supportive fans arrived to rally our sports teams and to marvel at OUR MYSTERIOUS MASCOT'S MINISTERED MIRTH. Our student athletes have directly cited their fans' support as one of the primary components of the fuel which drove them to so many victories.

OUR MYSTERIOUS MASCOT'S MINISTERED MIRTH.

Huge thanks to "Uncle" Dave McKenzie, Nancy Jensen, Rhett Kreutzer, Gary and Norma Doran, Shannon Wagner, alumni Andee Keeler and Tanner Colton, and so many more who made a point of attending nearly every home game.

STUDENTS GET INVOLVED

"It's really amazing to see the difference support from the students can make in a game. It actually affects the whole attitude and energy of the school when everyone gets really involved."

“Above all else, one superb thing can be said about this team: they never gave up. It didn’t matter if they were down 15 points or ahead by 10, every volley mattered; every serve, bump, set, and attack was a winning point. Coming together as a team meant everything, celebrating the little (and big) victories, picking each other off the floor, and encouraging with words and actions, “You’ve got the next one!” Heart, dedication, and drive, this makes a team.

Pacific: We got it.”

WORK HARD, PLAY HARD

The 2015 soccer season can best be described as an uphill battle against injury, long distance, and stiff competition that, despite these overwhelming odds, proved the perseverance of a proud-hearted team. Most of the games were around three or four hours away, which was a long bus ride for all of our players. The team stepped off the cramped bus with broken bones, rolled ankles, shin splints, and muscle contusions to play hard games against very competitive teams. This did not stop the Pirates from striving for excellence and sportsmanship throughout the season.

With pride and honor worthy of representing our school, many of ours players received all-league recognition: Kaden Ashdown, 1st Team All-League; Mikayla Mache, Goal Keeper of the Year, 1st Team All-League; Katie Poole and Quentin Fougerolles, Honorable Mention; Justin Hall, 2nd Team All-League. The team may have had varying experience levels but showed heart, sportsmanship and competitiveness to compete against private academies from the Rogue Valley.

ONE DREAM

PLAYOFFS

In an exciting close to a strong season, the boys' basketball team traveled to Hosanna Christian School in Klamath Falls for their first state playoff game on Wednesday, February 24th, 2016. They earned this game after a loss to Powers and a win against Glendale in the Skyline League playoffs in Sutherlin, OR. Excitement was thick in the air as fans settled into the stands; 2010 was the last time the boy's team competed in a state playoff game. After four quarters, the score board showed 40-59 ending the Pirate's well-fought season.

T RACK & FIELD

Optimism and drive is thick in the air at each and every track practice, no matter if there is rain, shine... or hurricane winds. The success these athletes have achieved starts with workouts, and of course natural ability. Determination is easily seen in the eyes of runners, jumpers and throwers alike.

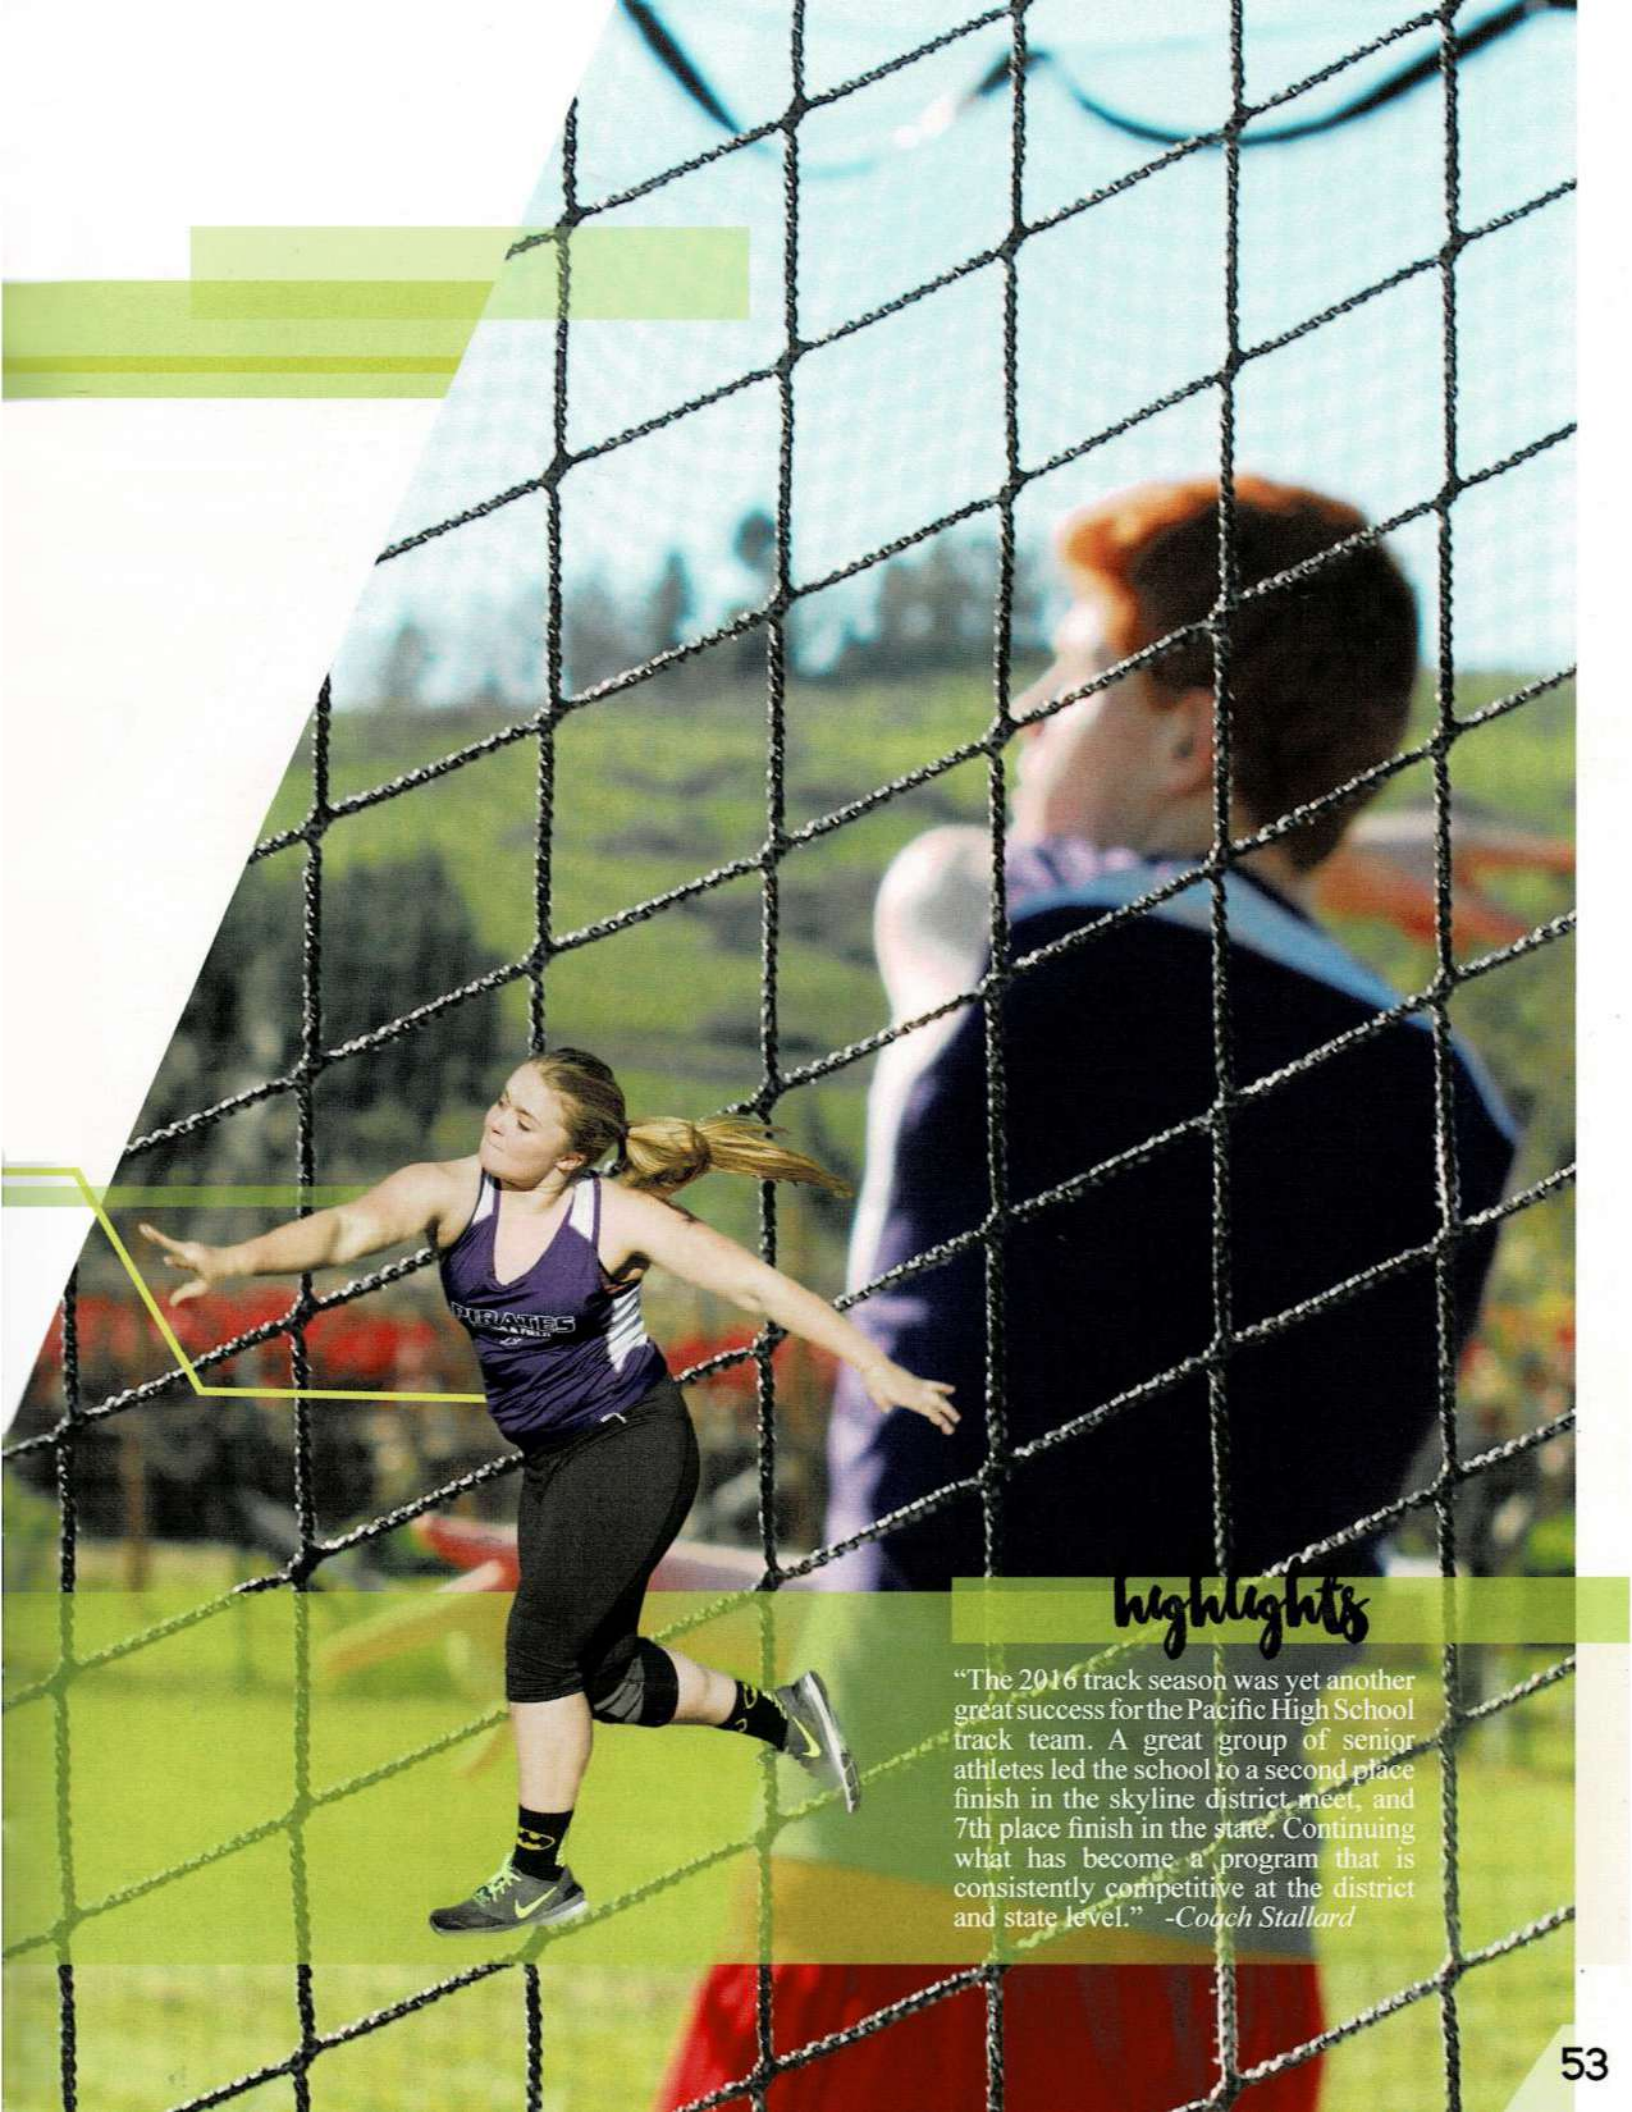

At the district meet three of Pacific's athletes took home district titles: Damon O'Donnell in the 200 meter dash, Brittany Kreutzer for the 800 meter run and Damien Austin in the javelin throw. In addition the Pirates took second in seven other events including the boys and girls 4x400 meter relay. The boys 4x100 relay also took a district title helping the boy's team place second in Special District 2.

I love getting in shape while enjoying the social aspect that comes with it.

highlights

“The 2016 track season was yet another great success for the Pacific High School track team. A great group of senior athletes led the school to a second place finish in the skyline district meet, and 7th place finish in the state. Continuing what has become a program that is consistently competitive at the district and state level.” -Coach Stallard

SCIENCE, TECH, ENGINEERING, MATH & INDIE STUDY

PACIFIC HIGH SCHOOL IS ALWAYS SO LUCKY TO BE GRACED BY SO MANY ASTOUNDING AND INTELLIGENT INDIVIDUALS. SAID INDIVIDUALS SHOULD OF COURSE GIVE THANKS TO OUR FANTASTIC STAFF FOR PREPARING THEM FOR THE FUTURE; THEY HAVE TRAINED THE FUTURE SCIENTISTS, MATHAMATICIANS, ENGINEERS. THEY WILL BE THE INDIVIDUALS TO BUILD SHIPS, SKY SCRAPERS, PROGRAM ROBOTS, OWN THEIR OWN BUSINESS, MAYBE EVEN ONE DAY CURE CANCER.

Top to Bottom: Rachel Smith, conducting her studios personal research; Brandon Hunt, in indendent studies; Garrett Phillips gets his weld on; Leah Friedman maintains focus; Quentin, Ago and Isaac share in there science calculating.

It was always nice to see a smile on Mr. Taylor's face. It should make sense that one of the few times he cracked one was when teaching his students the intricacies of math -- same goes for Mr. George, only his smile shown far more often.

WIN!WIN!WIN!

OUR VICTORIES AND DEFEATS, OUR LANGUAGES, THE ABILITY TO LEARN AND TEACH, OUR SOCIETIES, OUR CIVILIZATIONS, ARE WHAT DEFINE US AS A SPECIES - - WHAT MAKE US HUMAN.

LET'S TAKE say what A TRIP!

A student begins to truly blossom once he or she is given an opportunity to venture outside of their respective yet small worlds. Field trips have stood the test of time as the end-all tool to engage students and allow them to peer into a world much larger than their own. It only takes a few hours in an office, a law firm, a hospital, a college, or even an art gallery to expand a student's perception of a greater existence. Coming from a small town, Pacific's students have valued these experiences highly as a key component to their overall education. The artistic portion of so many students shined-through in competitions at the Coos Art Museum and Southern Oregon Community College with several achieving high placements. The juniors accompanied social studies teacher Mr. Scott on a trip to Portland where they visited legacy hospital and the Markowitz Herbold PC law firm. These trips are such memorable experiences which will carry our Pacific Pirates to much success in the future.

PERFORMING ARTS

The 2015-2016 school year has been incredibly kind to the music department of Pacific High School. The community always seems to want more once they listen to a performance by a group from PHS. The band and vocal ensemble have had the honor of performing in many places this year. From Oktoberfest to the Mildred Hill Concert Series to the small ensembles festival at Sprague in Bandon, everyone wants to see what all the talk is about. Both the band and choir had the privilege of attending honor band/choir where they worked with the best of several other schools. This was a great learning opportunity for both groups as is every performance.
